

Corporate DNA — work completed on 23 September 2026

Repository `Dev-em-Dobro/consulting-dna-corporate` · 17 commits · 3 pull requests · shipped to production at 17:42

Two tracks ran in parallel today — the visual changes the client asked for, and the no-login copy editor. They were reconciled into a single release and shipped together.

1 · The no-login copy editor

The client can now change the site's copy herself, with no CMS and no login.

Live at consulting-dna-corporate-alpha.vercel.app/edit — the index lists every page that can be edited.

- Five pages covered: home, About, Team, Services (the index) and Clients & Impact.
- Visual guide: each editor section shows a screenshot of the matching part of the page, generated by `scripts/edit-page-guide-shots.mjs`.

2 · The client's visual changes

- The home hero is Rhea on stage again; the session photo is out.
- Clients & Impact now leads with the wall of client logos, without the text baked into the artwork.
- Services got a hero of its own (golf, tennis, football).
- Impact cards on the home page: each header carries its own client's colour — Heineken green, Coca-Cola red, Shell yellow — so the three read as separate cards.
- "In partnership with" moved out of the foot of Our people and became a band of its own, with more presence and without the dark panel.
- Portraits of Jon Paul, Rhea and Mike at the requested face size.
- About: each office address now sits inside its region's column, with the city photo above it; the standalone office band is gone.
- Copy corrections: em dashes became commas, "Corporate DNA" became "CorporateDNA", "5 regions" became "4 regions".

3 · Next — tomorrow

Three service pages are being rebuilt:

- Manager Development
- HRLT Effectiveness
- Culture Transformation
